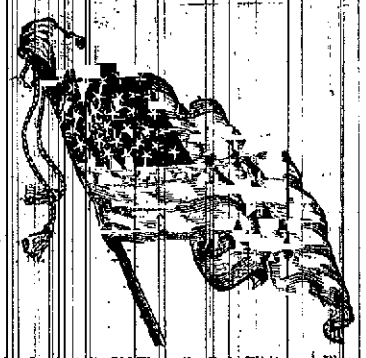
OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY.



We fling out the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
To die we'll defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT., 15, 1861.

"Wiring in and Wiring out."

In the Advertiser of Thursday there was an article headed "Republican Infidelity," in which the editor said that the President "had transcended his official functions and deliberately violated the Constitution of the United States." For saying this, the editor continues, "we have been denounced by partizans of the intense Republican school"—and continues, "What have these gentlemen now to say, since Congress refused to approve of THOSE unconstitutional ACTS?"

In our paper of Saturday we proved that Congress had approved of all the acts, proclamations, and orders of the President of the United States, after the 4th of March, 1861, in relation to the army and navy of the United States.

The Advertiser of Monday charges that we have misrepresented him—that, in effect, he did not refer to the acts of the President in relation to the army and navy, but to the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. In the article published in the Advertiser on Thursday no reference is made to the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus: it speaks of "those unconstitutional acts." The Advertiser now admits, contrary to his first assertion, that Congress has approved of all the acts of the President in relation to the army and navy subsequent to the 4th of March, 1861, and that the same were declared legal and valid as if they had been done under the express authority of the Congress of the United States.

So far the facts in this case are plain enough. We will now spend a moment in considering the question of habeas corpus. The Advertiser refers to Senator Sherman as saying that the writ, in his judgment, can only be constitutionally suspended under the direction of Congress. We will not argue this point; but it is obvious that cases may arise in which there may be serious results to government if the President shall wait for the action of Congress, to suspend the writ. Gen. Jackson suspended the writ, and was justified in doing so. President Lincoln has done it, where it was equally necessary to sustain the government. The Advertiser quotes Senator Sherman's opinions on the subject. We will also. They are embraced in a communication to the editor of the Cincinnati Gazette. The editor of that paper had published an article in which was this sentence:

"Mr. Sherman declined to vote his approval of the President's act in authorizing the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus in the case of the arrest of the Baltimore rebels by military authority, because he said the Constitution conferred the power to suspend this writ solely on Congress."

Mr. Sherman says to the editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, in commenting upon this statement:

"This is not true. I did not decline to vote my approval of the act of the President referred to, but on the contrary, did vote my approval of that act and declared my approval in the Senate in as strong language as I knew how to use.

It is true I did not vote for Senator Wilson's resolution. No vote by Yeas and Nays was taken upon it. I would have voted against it, and I am well satisfied a majority of the Republican Senators would have voted likewise. All the Republican and several of the Democratic Senators cordially approved and justified the acts of the President in Baltimore, and so declared and voted.

"While I approved and justified the acts of the President, I could not say with Senator Wilson that they were strictly legal or within delegated powers. There are times when our executive officer must anticipate the action of Congress, but in such a case he assumes the hazard of a "Bill of Impeachment," or a "Bill of Indemnity." The President merely assumed this hazard, and in the vacancy of Congress wisely assumed a power not delegated to him by the Constitution. He places his own justification in his message on the ground of public necessity, and on this ground his acts have been approved, justified, and legalized by Congress.

I hope from your general fairness, and courtesy, this correction will be made in your columns.

Very truly yours, JOHN SHERMAN."

This tells the whole story. While there were patriotic members of Congress of all parties who doubted that some of the acts of the President required to sustain the government, were "strictly legal or within his delegated powers," they were ready to approve and did approve of all his acts including the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus. This is repeatedly asserted by Senator Sherman—the Advertiser's own witness, and which will not be disproved unless the Advertiser will impeach his own evidence. The attempts of the editor to "wire in and wire out" in this case have failed completely.

We are constrained to believe that the Advertiser, which has no complaints to make of Jeff. Davis for his violation of the constitution and his heading a rebellion against the government, was only opposed to what he pleases to denounce the "unconstitutional acts of the President," because those acts were required to sustain the Union and government—and that he was opposed to, and laments their adoption, because they were the basis of measures by which the government will be sustained and rebellion crushed.

The Advertiser incautiously published its true sentiments when it blasphemously uttered, in connection with a prayer to God, that "Lincoln had inaugurated this war,"—in invocation" that "God would paralyze our national arms"—and, thus give victory to the rebels over our Union, our people, our constitution and our laws.

Capture and Destruction of Ocracoke Fort.

The imperfect dispatch which mentioned the destruction of this Fort, left the impression that it was the work of the rebels. Not so. Official reports show that it was done by steamer Fanny and launch, under command of Lieut. Maxwell. The official accounts state that the Fort was signaled, a few miles South of Fort Hatteras at the mouth of an Inlet, upon a barren Island. The Fort was octagon shaped, contained four shell rooms twenty-five feet square. The center was large bomb-proof and 100 feet square, within which was a large magazine. Above the magazine on each side were four large tanks for water, but there was none in the fort. The fort was constructed with great care. The bomb-proof was constructed of heavy pine timber with platforms for twenty guns. They were partially destroyed by fire. The gun carriages were all burned. Four 8-inch heavy shell-guns and fourteen 8-inch 32-pounders were in the fort. They were removed on Sunday and trunnions knocked off by solid shot from 64-pounders. Eight-inch heavy shell guns were found lying on the beach—one on carriage, all spiked. No battery was erected; one would have been built but for the coming of the Yankees. The guns were disabled by knocking them off the carriages, leaving them in the salt water on the beach. After destroying all the guns, Lieut. Maxwell piled all the lumber about bomb-proof and burned it; a light-ship was also burned. The destruction of the guns was a sheer necessity, there being no means of removing or defending them.

Missouri Affairs.

LEAVENWORTH, September 20th.—General Lane's command surprised a superior number of rebels at Pappinsville, Missouri, and routed them, taking all their tents, baggage wagons, supplies, and one hundred prisoners.

A force from Fort Scott defeated a body of rebels, killing their commander, Matthews, on whose person was found an order from Ben McCulloch for the enrollment of Indians.

St. Louis, Sept. 22.—The subject of the Federal disaster at Lexington was a matter of discussion in Cabinet session September 24th. The opponents of Gen. Fremont charge that he could have prevented the necessity of Col. Mulligan's surrender by sending reinforcements to Lexington. Fremont's friends state that he had no troops to spare, and it was impossible for him to strengthen Mulligan's position. The liveliest discussion of the state of affairs in Missouri, prevailed in all quarters at Washington.

Advices from Washington say that no immediate action will be taken by the Government in the case of Gen. Fremont. He will be allowed a full opportunity to carry out his plan of attacking the rebel forces under Price and McCulloch before any interference with his command is made.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 26th.—Eldridge Arbel, from Lexington, is under arrest. He was sent down by Price to learn the strength of our forces. He was miserably dressed. Papers found on him state our forces at St. Louis at only about four thousand. He will probably be shot tomorrow.

THE DAILY CHRONICLE.—We have received the first number of the Sacramento Daily Chronicle. Long life to it!

Delusion and Treason.

Editor Oregonian:—

If you would obtain a correct idea of the universal influence of the press, go among the people at large, and behold the thirst for for newspaper reading. As you pass along the road in hot summer weather, when the farmer has returned from his work, and the doors are thrown open to invite the precious breeze, on the porch or just within you will see the man of the house with his paper, swallowing down the editorial as a more delicious morsel than the viands preparing for his dinner. If he be a Democrat of the Jo Lane school, it is the Corvallis Union, the Advertiser of some paper of that character upon which he feeds; and whatever he finds in its sound columns, if not there condemned, whether murder, rebellion or treason, it is democratic and good enough for him. Go into his house, and upon a table, packed away on a shelf, or perhaps spread upon the wall you will find the source of his political information and faith, in a formidable array of Advertisers, Oregon Democrats, or something of that kind. Possibly a stray number of the Oregonian or Statesman may be found containing the president's message; if so, probably the conversation will turn upon the message; and you will find in nine cases in ten that he has not read it, but merely what his paper said about it: "I commenced to read it, but got disgusted with the Hell-fired thing. I haven't got time to read such d—d abolition stuff. And I thought if God would forgive me for commencing to read such trash I'd not do so no more. I'm a Union man, but I don't go nothing for coercion. I think Lincoln's done more to destroy the Union than any other man. I think the abolitionists better mind their own business, and if they don't I tell you the southerners will larn um a lesson. Talk about Lincoln whoppin the south; the northern men is all cowards.—One southern man can whoop five of the most plucky they can scare up." So you see as he could get his Union or Advertiser he would not read anything else; and so long as he could have a reliable editor to think for him he was satisfied. Seeing then constant reading among the people, and the blind confidence imposed by a certain class in the papers they read, reading only such papers as the Advertiser, is it very strange that many, otherwise respectable people, nay! honest men, are guilty of insulting and trampling under their feet the American flag—the flag of that government to which for so many years they felt proud to belong? which has watched over them like a parent giving them bread in lieu of land, and protecting them in their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. The flag under which their fathers fought for this government, and dying bequeathed to their children as the richest legacy they could bestow. Yes, that glorious old flag that has waved over so many battle-fields, contesting for human rights and constitutional liberty. What their fathers freely shed their blood for, and their mothers stretched their hands toward heaven and prayed for and bedewed with their tears. Sir, is even that strange, when they swallow pills of treason daily, put up in packages labeled Union? When they hug treason to their bosoms, clothed in the habiliments of liberty and patriotism? What language more becomes us then, that of our indulgent saviour: "Father forgive them, they know not what they do." But where should be laid this black mass of disloyalty and crime? Most undoubtedly at the doors of our disunion organs, "which are daily pleading the cause of the enemy, misrepresenting and vilifying the Government of the United States, exaggerating every article of unfavorable intelligence and exerting themselves to the utmost to dishearten the friends and defenders of the constitution and the union."

Every patriotic, and justice loving man must admit that with such poisoners of the public faith, such defilers of the unsuspecting citizen, something should be done; that their followers might awaken to a knowledge of themselves, and the duty they owe to their afflicted country. The question then is what should be done with them? and it would seem that the managers of these organs, are suspicious that this question is now being earnestly considered by the good citizens of Oregon; for they are continually howling about the freedom of the press, and intimating that we, in our devotion to the Union, had better be very cautious lest we get blown up. Now we admit, and shall ever maintain, that a government should protect its loyal and bonafide subjects in all the rights and privileges it guarantees to them; and the freedom of the press being guaranteed in this government by article first of the amendments to the original Constitution, we must of course, advocate the freedom of the press, as long as the exercise thereof is within the spirit of the law, and can justly claim protection under the Constitution.

A chap went roaring through the streets yesterday noon, on his way to the cooler up, under the escort of the city marshal and two assistants.

CITY.

ARRIVAL OF THE JULIA.—The steamer Julia arrived last night, bringing Tracy & Co's express and $10,000 gold dust. We learn that there is over $80,000 in the hands of passengers, making a total of over a hundred thousand dollars. The steamer Wright has taken the place of the Julia, whose passengers arrived at the Dalles the Wright night before last.

The reported death of Capt. De Lacy, late of the N. W. Boundary Commission, is contradicted.

CASUALTIES AT VANCOUVER.—A private in Capt. Black's company whose name we were unable to learn, committed suicide on Sun day morning, the garrison, by blowing his brains out with a musket. Cause, supposed insanity. On the same evening the bugler of the same company, by the name of Lang, who had been out hunting during the day with one of his companions, while stepping ashore from a sail boat, had the hammer of his fowling piece caught in the sail and thereby caused the discharge of his gun, the contents of which entered his left eye and caused his immediate death.

FINE.—Thomas Cunlia was fined yesterday morning, by the Recorder, $5, and costs of suit, for his previous evening's sport in violation of ordinance No. 10.

ASSAY OF GOLD DUST.—Mr. Agrell, assayer, New York, has furnished us the following table showing the fineness of dust assayed by him from the different localities mentioned:

Fraser River	830	to .850	$17 15.75	to $17	67.11
Colville	.800	" .830	16 53.75	" 17	15.75
Nez Perces	.770	" .800	15 91.73	" 16	53.75
Salmon River	.810	" .840	16 74.42	" 17	09.43
Kettle River	.815	" .830	16 84.75	" 17	15.75
Walla Walla	.770	" .800	15 91.73	" 16	53.75
Rogue River	.821	" .830	16 95.09	" 17	15.75

With this table shows that the gold dust from Fraser River is a trifle finer than that from the Nez Perces, still there is no assaying a less value than 15 91.73—as the least figure in fineness. Persons having dust from the mines will find that many moneys made by having their gold assayed into bars before selling.

IMPORTATION OF SPANISH MERINO SHEEP.—Dr. David Mallood arrived here yesterday with one hundred and thirty six head of these fine sheep, which he brought overland from Madison County, Vermont. Mr. Mallood left with 200 head, but lost a large portion on the plains. He also brought over with him five Scotch shepherd dogs, two of which he sold to Messrs Johnson & Perkins for one hundred dollars.

THE GREEK.—The Post master, while examining the contents of the letter box on Sunday evening, found a sealed letter among the rest without any direction, whatsoever—how it went there, the person who left it, must evidently have been in a hurry.

NEW STEAMER.—The new steamer now being built at Oswego will be launched on Saturday, the 19th, at 2 o'clock, P. M.

OREGON OIL.—A most capital article, can be had at the store of R. Pittock & Co., just north and south of the Oregonian office.

Two hundred and fourteen exiles recently arrived at Orville, Ky., from East Tennessee, having left families there. They immediately enlisted into the federal army.

Sir John Murray, of England, has recently been appointed an adjutant general in the United States army.

Arthur's Magazine says—"In war a million will be expended between the belligerents in proportion to their civilization." In this case, what is to be said of the South?

Quite a row on some of the rail roads of Illinois, lately, has been settled at ten cents a bushel.

The Vigilance Committee of Charleston has resolved that no resident of Charleston shall visit the Northern States.

Fully 2,000 of the citizens of Richmond are known to be Unionists.

An artesian well at Fortress Monroe is now 1,600 feet deep. The auger is now boring through clay, beneath which water is expected.

The Medical and Surgical Institute of DR. D. J. CZAPRAY is already secured to a position which places it, as well as its proprietor, far above the results of envy and prejudice in all circles. In the schools of France, the highest prizes are often awarded to practitioners in the department of medical science, and they occupy, with others, an equally high position in the profession. Injured in an illustrious example, a shining light among the philosophical stars of science in Europe, and Dr. Czapray has fully equalled him in this country, as a proof of which, the Philadelphia College of Medicine complimented him with a Diploma, and the honor of an ad eundem degree. Selecting this as his field of operation, although qualified as a graduate of the University of Pesth, and late Chief Surgeon of the Hungarian Revolutionary army, for services rendered to Dr. D. J. Czapray has kept his current attention to the cure of chronic and private diseases, in which he has become so great an expert, that he is now regarded as the LEADER in this branch of his profession throughout the United States, and his portrait and biography are published as matter of interest to their readers in the most exclusive journals. The Doctor's offices are at the Medical and Surgical Institute, on the easterly street, corner of Leidesdorff, nearly opposite the buildings of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, San Francisco. We ask a careful attention of our readers to the several certificates of remarkable cures, in another column of this paper. Persons not wishing to leave home in correspondence, please one or two full letters, and they will get immediate attention to their cases. Address, L. J. CZAPRAY, M. D., San Francisco, Cal. THE MARYLAND TRAITORS—A SECESSION PLOT DISCOVERED.—Gen. McClellan finds time, amid his other duties, to bestow a passing glance at Baltimore and the Maryland rebel sympathizers. From his prompt action at an important moment, it would appear that he has been watching the germ for some time, and only waiting for the bud to appear to tear out the rank weed, root and branch.

The arrests made yesterday have developed a deep laid scheme on the part of the Maryland rebels to aid those on the other side of the Potomac, which plot would, doubtless, have partially succeeded but for this action of the youthful chieftain. The Maryland Legislature was to have met on the 17th inst., when an act already prepared was to have been passed declaring Maryland out of the Union. On the same day the rebel forces, led by ex-Commander Buchanan on the Eastern Shore, and other rebels above Washington, were to have crossed into Maryland and taken military possession of the State, while Mayor Brown was at the same time to head a demonstration in Baltimore city of a like nature. The arrest of these men, and the suppression of the two rebel papers, the Exchange and the South, will leave the Legislature powerless to act, and take away the head from the Plug-Uglies of Baltimore.

Legal Notice.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Multnomah County. A. M. A. Blanchet, Complainant, vs. Oswald Travillot, Defendant. In Chancery.

TO OSWALD TRAVALLOT, Defendant: You are hereby notified that A. M. A. Blanchet has this day filed in my office his bill of complaint, and commenced a suit against you, in which he claims that on the tenth day of June, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-seven, you made and delivered to him a certain promissory note for the sum of six hundred dollars, payable ten months after date, with interest at the rate of two per cent. per month, and at the same time made, acknowledged and delivered a certain mortgage deed upon lots numbered three and four in block number three, in Couch's claim or addition to the City of Portland in the county aforesaid, as security for the payment of said note; and complainant prays for a decree of foreclosure and for the sale of the said mortgaged premises to pay the amount due upon said mortgage, to-wit: The sum of six hundred dollars and interest as aforesaid since the twentieth of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and fifty-nine, and for a judgment against you for any balance which may remain unpaid after the application of the proceeds of the sale of said property for the payment of said debt; and you are further notified, that unless you appear in the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah on the second Monday of November, A. D. 1861, and then and there answer the said bill of complaint, the same will be taken as confessed, and the prayer thereof will be granted by the Court.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of this Court this 12th day of August, A. D. 1861.

former health, and impelled by gratitude, make known their cases and remedial agent, and their [illegible] authenticated by a Notary Public. The [illegible] imperiously command their publicity, and we commend their perusal to the attention of all afflicted.

Certificate.—The undersigned, desirous of [illegible] those who may be unfortunate enough to be afflicted, where a permanent relief of their sufferings can be obtained, feels it his duty to thus publicly express his sincere gratitude to Dr. L. J. Czapkay, for the [illegible] recovery of his health. Borne down by the [illegible] symptoms incident to the vicious practices of [illegible] ble passion in youth; depressed in body and mind, [illegible] to perform even the most trifling duty imposed upon [illegible] dinary avocations of life, I sought the advice of [illegible] sicians, who at first regarded my disease as of trifling importance—but, alas! after a few weeks, and in some instances, months, of their treatment, I found, to my [illegible] able horror, that instead of relief, my symptoms [illegible] more alarming in their torture; and being told by [illegible] my disease being principally confined to the [illegible] would be of little consequence, I despaired of ever [illegible] my health, strength, and energy; and as a last resort, with but a faint hope, called upon Dr. Czapkay, who, after examining my case, prescribed some medicines which [illegible] instantly relieved me of the dull pain and fever in the head. Encouraged by the result, I resolved to place myself immediately under his care, and by a strict observance of his directions and advice, my head became clear, the [illegible] idens collected, the constant pain in my back and groins, the weakness of my limbs, the nervous reaction of my whole body on the slightest alarm or excitement, the [illegible] and evil forebodings, the self-distrust and want of confidence in others, the incapability to study, and want of energy, the frightful exciting, and at times pleasurable dreams at night, followed by involuntary discharges, have all left me entirely; and in fact, in two months after having placed myself under the doctor, I felt as if inspired by a new life—life which but a short time ago I contemplated to end by my own hand. With the view to guard the unfortunate from falling into the snares of incompetent quacks, I deem it my duty to offer this testimony to the merit and skill of Dr. Czapkay, and recommend him to all who may stand in need of medical advice, being assured by my own experience that all placed under his care a radical and permanent cure will be effected.

MARYSVILLE, June 4, 1856.

DR. L. J. CZAPKAY, San Francisco. SIR:—I have used but half of your medicine, and do not think I shall need more, as I feel very well, except that I have not entirely got my strength yet, but soon will with the appetite I have. It is just three weeks, you may recollect, since I left your institute, with my constitution, as I thought, entirely, and never thought you would be able to cure me perfectly, but thought you might be able to do something to ease the pain in my back and head, and strengthen my nerves, so that I would not get excited and trouble me in anything. Now that you know what I expected, you can judge of my satisfaction at my complete recovery, your symptoms, and the removal of those sores and blotches on my skin, and the ulcers from my throat, and the entire purge of those emissions, which you said were the cause of my sickness. I can hardly tell you which is my greatest, my joy or my surprise, for except only the [illegible] got my strength. I feel as well as any man can feel.

Enclosed I send you twenty dollars over your fee, as I think myself cheaply cured. If you think anybody is benefited, you may put this letter in the newspapers. I believe me gratefully yours, THOMAS HUNT.

CERTIFICATE.—Prompted by an honest desire of [illegible] I wish to lay before the public a case which [illegible] mendation, not only as an act of scientific skill, but [illegible] humanity also. About two years ago, I suddenly [illegible] causes unknown to me, was seized with a fit [illegible] which, owing to my inability to meet the [illegible] quent upon a thorough medical treatment, and the [illegible] agement which I met with on attempting it, was [illegible] such (I was then led to believe) as to defy the skill of a physician. I was frequently, while in [illegible] thrown down to the ground without the slightest [illegible] and although insensible to the agonies, I yet [illegible] miseries of my life, and soon learned to look upon those who would render assistance or shelter me from [illegible] as wise who sought to prolong the existence of my [illegible] While in this state, and having, previous to my [illegible] tasted the sweets of life, I once more was induced to [illegible] seeking aid of a physician; and, by accident, [illegible] upon Dr. L. J. Czapkay. I told him of my [illegible] and of my inability to reward him for his services, [illegible] of which, however, he at once undertook my case, [illegible] the blessing of God. I was once more restored to [illegible] health. Unable to reward him for the boon which I [illegible] present, and yet conscious of my indebtedness, I am [illegible] due to myself and all afflicted, to make the case [illegible] order that those in need of medical advice may find a [illegible] cian in whom every confidence can be placed.
